Message from the Principal

We had a good start this week of getting back into an every day routine. In doing so, we ask that you continue to check homework nightly. We are hoping that our students are writing their assignments daily in their agendas and that you are looking at them at night and asking to see the work. This will also give you an opportunity to continue to coach organization as you see the homework folders, other folders, and the book bag.

It is sometimes hard to remember how and when we learned how to be organized. In fact, some people never do. That is why teaching a system, as we do, allows students a template from which they can build. The addition of carrying items in backpacks has added an additional element of organization. Again, thank you for your help with this!

Please note events for this week including our last Movie Matinee and our 6th grade parent meeting at Fasset.

Have a great week!

Sincerely,

Tim Holcombe
