Message from the Principal

With a two hour delay and a shortened week this week, we are hoping to get back into solid routines this coming week! As part of that process, we ask that you continue to check homework nightly. We are hoping that our students are writing their assignments daily in their agendas and that you are looking at them at night and asking to see the work. This will also give you an opportunity to continue to coach organization as you see the homework folders, other folders, and the book bag.

It is sometimes hard to remember how and when we learned how to be organized. In fact, some people never do. That is why teaching a system, as we do, allows students a template from which they can build. The addition of carrying items in backpacks has added an additional element of organization. Again, thank you for your help with this!

Thank you to all parents who came to Parent/Teacher Conferences last week! As always, please feel free to contact us any time you would like to meet. The communication between home and school can make a huge difference in a student's progress!

Please note next week, on March 1st, is that last time to order a yearbook.

Have a great week!

Sincerely,

Tim Holcombe
